Lean / Continuous Improvement
Lean Implementers £30-35,000 + benefits Midlands base (UK + Europe)
Lean Consultants £45-65 + benefits (in base + gross of travel)

Recognised as one of Europe's leading business improvement organisations, our clients aim is simple, to provide people with the know-edge and tools needed to optimise their performance and quality of work.

By offering a highly innovative range of consultative solutions encompassing Lean, Six Sigma and TPS techniques, they are setting industry standards within the manufacturing arena - consistently delivering long-term results and maximising competitive advantage in order to maintain and build upon this enviable position, they seek to appoint a number of highly dynamic Lean experts to project manage manufacturing process improvement initiatives across a diverse range of large - blue chip organisations within the Automotive, Aerospace, Rail, Process and IT industry sectors.

These assignments are certainly varied with no two projects or companies the same! We therefore seek candidates who are highly competent Continuous Improvement professionals, either looking to make their first move into Lean Consulting, or seasoned 'agents of change' who already possess a demonstrable track record of delivering efficiency improvements.

Typical skills will have been gained through effective utilisation of progressive lean techniques such as 5S, 5W, Kaizen, Kanban, SMED, 3PL, DEI, Process / Value Stream Mapping and Visual Management.

Key to this role is your ability to not only plan large-scale improvement projects, but also drive these through to completion, hence your organisational ability, determination and self-discipline coupled with excellent coaching / communication skills and flexible approach to work is essential.

Highly visible, these roles offer significant scope and opportunity to impact on business at every level. As you would expect, rewards are also significant, both in terms of career as well as financial progression.

To apply, please forward your details, in confidence
